Pricing Structures

In harmony with our University's Franciscan charism of radical generosity, our collection of workshops and related resources has been priced at a level that ensures any diocese, any parish, and any individual learner will be able to access this formation. Our aim is to offer the very best we can conceive, design, and produce... for all members of Christ's Church who desire what we have created.

Forming those who form others.

Becoming a Partner Diocese

For a diocese that elects to enter into a partnership with the Catechetical Institute, a $300 per parish (or local parochial institution) yearly subscription will allow all catechists, catechetical leaders, and parents in that institution or parish to be formed. Once a parish or school signs up, individuals can take many courses, or just a few specific workshops. There is no other cost to a diocese, other than whatever ways a bishop would like Franciscan University to assist in the training of a cadre of local mentors.

This partnership with the Catechetical Institute is arranged at the level of the diocesan ordinary, not another official, and includes the following elements:

- ✚ All Institute workshops will be made available to any learner registered at a subscribing parish.
- ✚ A diocese decides which of our workshops it considers relevant to certification or continuing formation for various ministries; our online system then allows a diocesan official to self-select sets of workshops, defining tracks and courses of study tailored to that diocese's needs.
- ✚ Mentors for courses are chosen by the diocese and trained in cooperation with Catechetical Institute staff.
- ✚ Relevant Institute workshops are counted as meeting diocesan continuing education requirements for parochial school teachers.
- ✚ Online access to The Catechetical Review (including all back issues) is included for all mentored learners.
- ✚ By special arrangement, certain discounts to the St. John Bosco Conference at Franciscan may be available to those gaining diocesan certification.

Meeting the Needs of Individual Learners

Individuals who are not part of a partner diocese and subscribing parish or institution may enroll through the institute's website. Their only cost will be an inexpensive monthly subscription (see below).

Outside of an existing partnership, or the ability to provide a sufficient number of mentors to meet demand, individual learners may take any workshops for enrichment (essentially auditing).
