First Proclamation (FP) Track

This track is intended for any individual—clergy or lay, active in ministry or not—who desires to develop the ability to proclaim the Gospel to others. Workshops in this two-part series address the critical content of the basic Gospel message; the historical ways in which it has been unfolded; the nature of conversion and faith development; the natural and necessary connection between evangelization and a deeper exploration of the faith; best practices in the field in a wide range of circumstances; skills development; the place of apologetics; specific avenues to evangelize families; and the need to be well-formed in the pastoral and spiritual aspects of outreach. A special feature of this track is a far-reaching series of interviews with many Catholics who are currently doing creative and effective evangelization work in a myriad of contexts.

*F*orming those who form others.
